

ACLS seminar
– Global Career Seminar –

“Working in a management consulting firm;
our work, people and values”

Why McKinsey? This session will address what we do as a management consulting firm, what kind of talent we are looking for, and why we believe joining McKinsey is an attractive career path. Presentation will be followed by Q&A session; please bring questions with you!

Date: April 10th (Fri), 2015

Time: 5:30 pm – 7:00 pm

Venue: Ookayama campus, West bldg. 9, 2Fl.
Seminar room
(The Graduate School of Innovation Management)

Speaker: Kenji Nabeshima (McKinsey & Company)

Language: Japanese

(The presentation slides used in this seminar is written by in Japanese and in English. He accepts the question by English.)

Facilitator :

Shintaro SENGOKU (Graduate School of Innovation Management)

Takashi HARADA (The Education Academy of Computational Life Sciences)

This seminar is coorganized by The Education Academy of Computational Life Sciences and Graduate School of Innovation Management, Tokyo Institute of Technology.

How to register: Those who wish to attend this seminar, please contact

harada@acsl.titech.ac.jp (the deadline for the application: April 9th)